Thank you!

“To watch us dance is to hear our hearts speak”

Thank you to our students and their teachers who dance from their hearts.

Jane Jelenko

“The joy of dancing has a way of aligning body, heart, and mind to create harmony within ourselves that affects ourselves and those around us. I am proud to celebrate EDLA! and our teachers, students, and families who encourage them”. Charlene Achki Repko

We celebrate our EDLA! family, our honorees, and all our supporters.
Thank you!
Leah and Sam Fischer

CONGRATULATIONS to Honoree Renae Williams Niles

for her efforts to broaden the accessibility of the arts to children in Los Angeles and beyond.

CENTER FOR THE PERFORMING ARTS

For information about the Arts Education Program please visit TheSoraya.com

The Soraya's Arts Education programs serve 15,000 K-12 and University students each season. Our "hybrid" approach offers both online and in-person presentations to expand access to the performing arts. 70% of the schools we serve receive Title I funding, which ensures that we are reaching those students most in need of robust arts education programming.

Thank you to our longtime supporters,
